"Learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart".

Many of us were raised in an era when the emphasis was on guilt, harsh penances and moral strictures that made little allowance for human weakness and the inherent complications of life in the modern world.

Thankfully, we have been blessed with a Pope who is steering us along a path of pastoral understanding that resonates very strongly with today's Gospel.

Fr John

REST YOU BURDENS ME WEARY CARRYING

REFLECTION

By Richard Leonard

Before I said my first Mass an old priest gave me two great pieces of advice.

'You know when the congregation is filled with optimists. After a long series of announcements at the end of Mass and then you say, "and finally..." people take out their car keys!'

The second was, 'Never underestimate the burdens people bring with them into the church. Often we have little idea of the difficulties and pain our parishioners will be carrying.'

I have no idea what you have brought with you to Mass today. I can only imagine the anxiety and burden some of you are carrying. Whatever it is, Jesus invites you to let go of it, if only for a while, and be at peace.

Now all this 'come and rest a while' talk can be very pious and not sound all that in touch with reality.

Today's Gospel, however, came from the community of the Apostle Matthew and was written in Jerusalem about 45 years after Jesus' death. We know that this community experienced intense suffering and heavy burdens.

They had been expelled from the Synagogue and were being martyred for their faith in Jesus Christ.

No wonder they held so strongly to the words, 'Come to me all you who are weary and heavy burdened and I will give you rest.' And they found consolation in Jesus' example, 'take my yoke upon you and learn from me for I am gentle and humble in heart.'

Since the first century, however, Christianity has been guilty of trying to spiritually wallpaper over some tough realities rather than preaching that God is our companion in facing up to whatever our reality is and dealing with it.

Our faith is not about praying away our problems or fears and wishing it were otherwise. Our faith means we have experienced the love of God in Jesus Christ so that we never carry our burdens alone. God is our companion and guide and this parish Community, as with every Christian community, is called to be the sort of place where we carry each other's burdens and rest with each other awhile.

What we celebrate here each Sunday is that God will have the last word, a just, joyous, loving and peaceful word, in this world and when we enter our final rest. Jesus didn't come to us as a divine magician, waving a wand over our problems to wipe away all our tears.

Rather, he accompanies us so he can show us that the gift of peace and a release from our life's burdens is often found in having the perspective for exercising the gift of right judgment. Making the best possible choices leads to the alleviation of our pain and difficulties.

This type of spiritual sanity reminds me of the story of the nun who was teaching the communion class, and drew an analogy about how food is essential to life. She asked the class,

'What's small and furry and eats nuts?'

To which there was bemused silence.

So Sister tried again.

'What's small and furry and eats nuts?'

There was now stony silence. Sister then picked out Billy and asked him for the answer. After several awkward moments, Billy tentatively replied,

'Sister, I know the answer is supposed to be Jesus, because the answer to all your questions is always Jesus but, I have to tell you, it sounds like a bloody squirrel to me.'

Sometimes the answer is not simply 'Jesus'. As we all know, for some of our difficulties, there is no spiritual quick fix. There is no cheap grace. The answer is not simply Jesus.

In confronting issues, however, it is necessary for spiritual and mental health to take time out, to be as gentle with ourselves as possible, to know that the burden of life is shared so that we can make the decisions that will ease the situation.

I don't underestimate the burdens some of you have walked into this church with today. Whatever burden you may have brought with you, may you know a moment's rest, the companionship of fellow travelers and the gift of Christ's peace.

SEA SUNDAY 9 JULY

This Sunday 9 July is Sea Sunday, it's a moment when the church prays for all those who live and work at sea. Without them, we would not have most of the items we rely on for daily living.

We all rely on seafarers.

With your help, they can rely on us.

On Sea Sunday we gather around the world to think of seafarers' welfare.

Being a seafarer is tough.

Crews can spend months away working long hours with little respite or contact with home. On top of the daily pressures, the threat of piracy, shipwreck and abandonment are ever present for the men and women who serve us at sea.

In recent years, this challenging job has become even harder. Increased restrictions and lockdowns (due to the global covid-19 pandemic) saw many seafarers working beyond the end of their contract, facing months of uncertainty and further separation from loved ones. That's months of missed birthdays, anniversaries, funerals, and family celebrations.

Amid these challenges, the Mission to Seafarers has been a constant source of practical support and reassurance. Through our teams in more than 200 ports worldwide, we've been supporting the 1.5 million unseen keyworkers who have helped to keep the economy afloat and transport the essentials we need to survive.

Our port centres have always been a haven for mentally and physically exhausted seafarers. For those who can't make it into the centres, our chaplains and ship visitors take a warm welcome and listening ear onboard. And when that's not been possible, email, social media, and WhatsApp have been a lifeline of support.

When seafarers have nowhere else to turn, your support ensures they can come to us.

If a seafarer wants to get to the shops, they need the right documentation, permission for shore leave, transportation, and enough time to get there and back – none of which is easy.

This is where we come in. When seafarers can't get to us, we go to them. Over the years, especially the past few years when there was no shore leave, our team became masters of logistics, working against the clock to get shopping to crews before they moved on.

We bought everything from fresh fruit and medication to musical instruments and computers. These items helped to preserve the dignity of our seafarers, bringing joy to their families, and reminded them that we care.

Can you support Stella Maris, Apostleship of the Sea, the official maritime welfare agency of the Catholic Church? It supports seafarers both practically and spiritually. To assist this Catholic ministry, please send your donations to:

<https://stellamarisaustralia.org/sea-sunday-appeal/>

A PRAYER FOR SEA SUNDAY:

Heavenly Father, we give thanks to you for your creation and all the beauty in this world. We thank you for the ocean, in its abundance, and for the people who toil on its surface. Without our brothers and sisters who are seafarers, we would not be able to enjoy all the blessings of this world. Enfold them in your fatherly love, guide their passage through storm, swell and darkness. May we always be mindful of our Global Family and be truly grateful for the sacrifices seafarers make each day. Amen

VINNIES WINTER APPEAL

"St Vincent de Paul continues their annual winter appeal at Hamilton and Tighes Hill parishes. We continue to meet the face of Christ in all we encounter, no matter sometimes the hopelessness of situations. Envelopes are placed around the churches and can be placed on the second plate, given to the Vinnies representative at mass or taken home and returned at a later date. Each year these parishes are extremely generous and the Hamilton conference is very grateful for their generosity and on-going support."
