We acknowledge their cultural heritage, beliefs and continuing relationship with the land, pay respect to their Elders past and present, and commit ourselves to work together for reconciliation and justice.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

God works in mysterious ways and does not reason like humans.

"My ways are not your ways, and my thoughts are not your thoughts." (Isaiah 55:8)

God chooses whomever He wants as His instruments, and empowers them for His mission, that is, to be messengers of justice, peace, progress, charity, mercy and compassion.

Fr Anil

"If anyone gives you a cup of water to drink just because you belong to Christ, then I tell you solemnly, he will most certainly not lose his reward."

- Mark 9:41

Dear friends,

From this Sunday evening, 29th September, till next Friday afternoon, 4th October, most of our diocesan clergy, along with Bishop Michael, will be away on our annual retreat in Pokolbin. Please keep us in your prayers.

During this period there will be NO weekday morning Masses at Stockton, Mayfield or The Junction. However, our regular morning Masses at the Cathedral, including the Friday midday Mass, will be celebrated as usual, with Fr Bogdan presiding. We are very grateful to Fr Bogdan for his kindness and generosity.

Love, Fr John

110TH WORLD DAY OF MIGRANTS AND REFUGEES 2024

Every year, during the last Sunday of September, the World Day of Migrants and Refugees (WDMR) invites Catholics worldwide to remember and express concern for different vulnerable people on the move. The WDMR this year is celebrated on Sunday, 29 September. Since 1914, the Church has celebrated the WDMR. It is an opportune time to pray for them, show concern for them as they face many challenges, and raise awareness of the opportunities that migration presents. The Holy Father has selected "God walks with His people" as the theme for this year's celebration.

God walks with His people: Message of Pope Francis

"... God not only walks with his people, but also within them, in the sense that he identifies himself with men and women on their journey through history, particularly with the least, the poor and the marginalized. In this we see an extension of the mystery of the Incarnation.

For this reason, the encounter with the migrant, as with every brother and sister in need, is also an encounter with Christ. He himself said so. It is he who knocks on our door, hungry, thirsty, an outsider, naked, sick and imprisoned, asking to be met and assisted. The final judgment in Matthew 25 leaves no doubt: 'I was a stranger and you welcomed me' (v. 35); and again 'truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did it to me' (v. 40). Every encounter along the way represents an opportunity to meet the Lord; it is an occasion charged with salvation, because Jesus is present in the sister or brother in need of our help. In this sense, the poor save us, because they enable us to encounter the face of the Lord.

Dear brothers and sisters, on this day dedicated to migrants and refugees, let us unite in prayer for all those who have had to leave their land in search of dignified living conditions. May we journey together with them..."

VIEW, CHEW, CHAT, AND LECTIO

View, Chew, and Chat meets October 2 @ 7pm. We will discuss chapters 1-3 of Why God by Richard Leonard. To participate, please email the parish office.

REFLECTION BY RICHARD LEONARD

Today's gospel makes me very pleased I'm a Catholic, and that we don't take the bible literally. Our Christian brothers and sisters who insist on the literal truth of the scriptures must have a tough time trying to avoid cutting off their hands and feet, plucking out their eyes and worrying about how hot hell is! I'm not sure about them, but I know my feet have taken me to places I wish I'd not gone, and when I got there my eyes saw things I wish I'd not seen. Still, in spite of the times I've let myself down, I am glad I'm still in one piece, and not all that worried about the worms and weather in hell!

As Catholics we believe the Scriptures reveal the truth of our salvation – they are not books of fact. Jesus was a skilled and powerful communicator. And like all great teachers he used metaphor and exaggeration to make his point. In Mark's Gospel, Jesus takes evil very seriously. He is always conscious of it around him and is aware that it comes from within us, and without us. Jesus teaches us today to stop doing the destructive things that prevent us from loving God, each other and ourselves.

Sinful behaviour often falls into two categories of human activity: habitual and compulsive. Habits are unusual things. There are good habits, like saying 'please' and 'thank you'. There are habits that can start out well-intentioned enough, but end up being obsessions, like caring for one's physical fitness. And there are habits that bring moments of relief or let us off the hook – like lying, dishonesty and stealing – but always end up being destructive.

Compulsive behaviour, however, is of a very different order. Gambling, drinking, shopping, smoking, violence, work, sex, eating, drugs, pornography, money and the Internet are fairly common modern manifestations of compulsive behaviour. As heart-breaking as these addictions are, they are the presenting problems of deeper issues related to self-esteem, personal history and even genetic disposition.

One of the comments I've heard people make about their compulsive behaviour is, 'I found myself doing it again and I am not sure how or why'. No doubt there are some people who feel so lonely and get so depressed about their habitual or compulsive behaviour, they contemplate severing an arm, a leg or gouging an eye.

Jesus underlines that we have to stop our destructive behaviour and offers three pieces of practical advice so we can. Firstly, do whatever helps. For some people the most unusual solutions attend to the deeper issues and help us piece our lives back together. It doesn't matter whether others approve of it, or it's related to religious faith, for as long as it doesn't lead to other destructive behaviour then, 'whoever (or whatever) is not against us, is for us'.

Secondly, accept help. None of us can battle through life carrying all our burdens on our own. Steps four to six of Alcoholics Anonymous deal with sharing the exact nature of our burdens as a means to coming to terms with them. Our family and friends are not mind readers and we need to seek out wise counsel and follow it wisely. The help and support we receive could be like the cup of refreshing water Jesus tells us about today.

Finally, habitual and compulsive behaviour always has a pattern. St Ignatius Loyola taught in the sixteenth century that it was only when we regularly examined ourselves to see where, when, how and with whom we are most likely to walk away from God's love, that we can work out why we do it and change the pattern.

And when we really know ourselves as we are, and not as we would like to be, we have the chance to choose life over death more often than not.

THE CHUCKLE

Mick and Paddy went fishing together, taking their dogs out with them in their boat. One day, they found they had run out of bait. So Mick made a sign to his dog. His dog swam to shore, picked up a bag of bait out of their esky, swam back to the boat and delivered it to the fishermen.

Some time later, they ran out of bait again. Paddy made a sign to his dog. His dog walked across the water to the shore, picked up another bag of bait, walked back across the water to the boat and delivered it. Paddy waited for a reaction from Mick, but Mick said nothing. After a while, Paddy said to Mick, "Didn't you notice anything about my dog?" Mick said, "Yes I did. Your dog can't swim".

TODAY'S LITURGY

Entrance Antiphon

All that you have done to us, O Lord, you have done with true judgement, for we have sinned against you and not obeyed your commandments. But give glory to your name and deal with us according to the bounty of your mercy.

LITURGY OF THE WORD

First Reading: Nm 11:25-29

Are you jealous on my account? Who decrees that all people may prophesy?

Responsorial Psalm

R. The precepts of the Lord give joy to the heart.

The law of the LORD is perfect; it revives the soul.
The decrees of the LORD are steadfast;
they give wisdom to the simple. R.

The fear of the LORD is pure, abiding forever.
The judgments of the LORD are true;
they are, all of them, just. R.

So in them your servant finds instruction;
great reward is in their keeping.
But who can detect their own errors?
From hidden faults acquit me. R.

From presumption restrain your servant;
may it not rule me.
Then shall I be blameless, clean from grave sin. R.

Second Reading: James 5:1-6

Harsh words for those who exploit others.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!

Your word, O Lord, is truth:
make us holy in the truth.

Alleluia, alleluia!

Gospel: Mk 9:38-43. 45. 47-48

Anyone who is not against us is for us. If your hand should cause you to sin, cut it off.

LITURGY OF THE EUCHARIST

Communion Antiphon Cf. Ps 118:49-50

Remember your word to your servant, O Lord,
by which you have given me hope.
This is my comfort when I am brought low.
